Kinship Viewer 2019R1: The purpose of this application is to provide a method to view relationships of a selected person to their ancestors and relatives in a family tree. The input for the app is a family tree gedcom file. The application is only available for Windows and is a 32bit version. Your Display Settings Resolution needs to be set for at least 1920x 1080 or you can change the Scale and layout to a smaller % to display the full application screen.

The initial startup screen:

Clicking the Import Gedcom button will display a Windows Explorer Open dialog window. The user can then maneuver the file system to find the desired gedcom file and click Open. I have only tested with an Ancestry gedcom and a Family Tree Maker gedcom.

The Show Kinship button is used to display how someone in the list of names is related to the Selected Person

Use the Find text box to locate a person or scroll down the list of names. In the image below, Antilley, james homer was typed in the Find text box.

Then click the Show Kinship button to show how the Selected Person is related.

The kinship is shown below the Show Kinship button and the also illustrated in the Kinship boxes. The common ancestors are Antley, Abraham and Dantzler, Mary Elizabeth. The grey background behind names shows the connecting people. In the application, Antilley, James Homer's name will have a Blue background which will make it easy to spot.

General Notes:

You can Import another gedcom at any time.

You can Find or Scroll and Double click a different name to change the Selected Person.

The Show Kinship button will only display kinship for a direct relative.

It does not show kinship by marriage.

It does not indicate Half Kinship's in this release.

Very occasionally the application might terminate after clicking on a name in the Select Spouse dialog window. I have not been able to find what causes this to happen.

Restarting the application and retrying the same sequence should work.

If you try this application, I would appreciate some feedback.
